BIG SHOW IN ARMORY TONIGHT

AL HATTENBURG, COLLEAGUES, IN PUBLIC'S FAVOR

Republican Campaign Gains in Momentum.

IN 3 BIG WARDS

Gaining tremendous momentum as the final days of the city campaign are reached, the "Hattenburg for Mayor" movement has rallied legions of active supporters from every walk of life in Kankakee. The citizens realize and have expressed the view that election of Republican candidates throughout the various wards will insure continued progress and efficiency in the management of municipal affairs. They recall that the greatest strides forward have always been made when the O.P. standard bearers were in the majority on the council.

Well qualified to carry out the program of far-reaching improvements which the Republicans have planned are the candidates in the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards. All are well known in their respective wards, are endorsed by the precinct committeemen and committeewomen, and merit approval of the people.

Miller Is Popular

Lewis R. Miller of 153 North Entrance avenue has been a resident of Kankakee for 13 years. He owns his own home, is the head of a family which includes two children, and is seeking public office Tuesday for the first time.

Since 1926, Mr. Miller has been employed in the millroom at Krohnier Manufacturing company. Previous to that, he spent 15 years in the employ of the piano factory formerly located on North Greenwood avenue. Mr. Miller is an expert piano tuner and his services are in demand by the best local pianists.

He is a world war veteran and a past commander of a local ex-servicemen's organization. He promises 100 per cent representation for the Fifth ward and efficient service to the people at all times.

Runs First Time

Another newcomer is Walter Henrich of 613 Park Drive, Brookmont. Mr. Henrich is a quiet steady worker, preferring to act while other people talk. He was born in the Fifth ward and has always resided there. A working man, he knows first hand the problems of those who toil for their living. He owns his own home.

For the past 21 years he has been a brakeman on the New York Central railroad and a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. He pledges, if elected, to use his past experience to the greatest benefit of the people.

He wants to see the North Fifth avenue quarry filled and transformed into valuable public property. He would like to see the remainder of Soldier creek covered and will urge further street improvement.

Young Slayer Is Sought In Many States

Penton, Mich., April 16.—(UPI)—Search spread to five states today for Ray Larsen, 22, youthful farmhand, wanted in connection with the bludgeoning slaying of an elderly, bedridden farmer and his sister, the probable fatal beating of the farmer's wife. All the victims were more than 70 years old.

The dead, Jehiel H. Davis, 76, Livingston county dairy farmer.

Mrs. Lydia Hildebrandt, 72, Utica, Mich., the farmer's sister.

Mrs. Eleanor Davis, 73, his wife, was taken to Hurley hospital in Flint where she is not expected to live. She suffered a fractured skull. Sheriff Irvin Kennedy of Livingston county advised police authorities in Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and Tennessee to be on the lookout for Larsen who had been employed on Davis' farm.

The slayer used a wooden mallet to kill his victims. Davis' body was found in bed, while that of Mrs. Hildebrandt was found nailed into a feed bin in the barn. Stuffed in with her was Mrs. Davis, who was unconscious. Both had been strangled and beaten.

Larsen is believed to have left the farm in Davis' truck. The weapon was found in the water tank in the farm yard.

The little band of Kankakee's remaining civil war veterans was reduced still further yesterday by the death of Herbert O. White, 95, of 235 South Dearborn avenue. He succumbed at 4:45 p. m. at his home, following an illness of several months of uremia.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Hickey funeral home with the Rev. G. C. Whinnett, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in the family lot at Mount Grove. The daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will attend in a body.

Nearly 1,500 Attend High School Event

Close to 1,500 parents and friends of the students and faculty at Kankakee high school crowded the corridors, classrooms, gymnasium and auditorium of that institution last evening to inspect and admire the work of the young men and women.

A tour of the various departments could not but impress upon the visitor the tremendous importance of visual education which finds increasing adaptations each year. It is used most effectively in the sciences, mathematics, the languages, mathematics, and business practice divisions recognize its possibilities as well.

Wherever demonstrations were conducted, people crowded in to see the girls in the physical education classes staged drills and exercises to illustrate their training while the boys in this department went through their paces in the pool.

Girls in the clothing classes modeled suits, skirts, blouses, printed frocks and pajamas which they had fashioned at school under the direction of Miss Grace Coulter and Miss Lydia Mussman.

The musical program included six numbers by the band under the direction of George Piersol and by the boys' glee club. The auditorium was filled to capacity for this performance.

LaFayette Hotel Sold at Auction on $70,102 Bid

The LaFayette hotel was put on the auction block yesterday at a masters' sale and bid in for $70,102.40. Foreclosure was brought to satisfy the mortgage holders.

Their interests were listed as follows: Mrs. Mary Conley, one-half; Mrs. Florence S. Davis, one-third; and the City Trust and Savings bank, one-sixth.

The present operator, Marc Des-Marteau, will have a total of 10 months in which to redeem his equity. He has conducted the hotel for 10 years, the last two of which have been operated in receivership.

Dr. R. Smith Has Resigned At Hospital

Dr. Robert R. Smith, managing officer of the Kankakee state hospital the past three years, has resigned his position. It was learned today. The resignation takes effect immediately.

His assistant Dr. George W. Morrow, will be acting head of the institution until a successor is named. Dr. Smith told the Republican-News he did not wish to make any statement at this time. His future plans are indefinite.

He said he has had several business opportunities which he is considering. The physician formerly held a private practice at his home in Mt. Vernon. He came here on Jan. 1, 1934, receiving his appointment from the present governor.

A. L. Bowen, state superintendent of public welfare, said in Chicago this morning that the resignation had nothing to do with Dr. Smith's professional conduct, his ability or integrity. Bowen also denied that it had any political significance.

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—P.—Public Welfare Director A. L. Bowen said today he had named Dr. George W. Morrow acting manager of the Kankakee state hospital to succeed Dr. Robert R. Smith, who resigned.

No reason was given for the resignation of Smith, who formerly resided at Mt. Vernon. Before his promotion, Morrow was assistant to Smith.

Bowen's office also said that no successor has been named for Miss Florence Monahan, managing officer of the girls' school at Geneva who resigned to accept a similar position in California.

Federal Agent and Bystander Wounded During an Arrest

Washington, April 16.—P.—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, said today Federal Agent W. W. Baker was looking for two suspects in a Kankakee, N. Y., bank robbery when he was shot today in the lobby of the Topeka Kans. post office.

Hoover said the two suspects were Robert Suhay and Gerald Lewis. The Northern Westchester bank at Katonah was robbed March 12.

Topeka, Kas., April 16.—P.—A federal agent, identified only as "Baker" and a bystander, O. D. Davis, of Topeka, were shot during an attempt to arrest a suspect at the postoffice here at noon today.

The three agents postoffice building at Fifth street and Kansas avenue is in the heart of the downtown district.

Baker was shot in the chest and taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

Topeka police said they were without information but understood that three federal agents and a bystander were shot during the robbery when he called for a registered package at the postoffice. The suspect had a car parked near the postoffice and fled in it during the shooting.

About 20 shots were fired in the lobby of the postoffice, said a spokesman for E. O. Hallcock, postal inspector in charge at Kansas City. Federal agents were waiting in the postoffice, the spokesman said, when a "gangster" walked to a window and asked for his mail.

"The agents stepped forward and told him to hold up his hands," the spokesman said, "and when he did some accomplices shot Baker."

Frank Stone, assistant director of the state highway patrol, said that fugitives were identified as Alfred Power, 39, Illinois Lewis Moore, and Rudolph Brinker, 28, wanted for the robbery of a bank at Katonah, N. Y.

RADIO STATION FOR KANKAKEE IS IN PROSPECT

Local Firm Leases Land for Station; Studio Here.

COST IS $20,000

That the Federal Communications commission has already partially granted permission for the construction and operation of a commercial radio station in Kankakee was revealed today by Kenneth Baker, one of the members of the Key City Broadcasting company of Kankakee.

He said that the company consists of himself, Hartwell Gauss, his partner in the Baker Radio Service establishment at 257 South Schuyler avenue and a third party whose name he declined to reveal.

Mr. Baker announced that the company some time ago made application to the federal commission for a construction permit, that the commission, its technical division and the war department have approved the application, and that all which remains to be done is a public hearing in Washington on June 15 at which time the operators of other radio stations might appear.

Other Hearings

If no valid reasons against the proposed station appear at this hearing, the construction permit will be granted. After construction, the company will ask for an operating permit to be granted if construction has been done in accordance with the commission's rulings.

Mr. Baker said the intention is to build a 100-watt, 1500 kilocycle station which would consistently serve a territory within a 45-mile radius of Kankakee which under certain circumstances would be heard much further. He pointed out that station WDWS of Champaign, a 100-watt station established some two months, is regularly heard in daytime here.

Establishment of stations with a greater power than 100 watts is not permitted in Illinois at this time by the federal commission due to the congestion of airlines by the high powered stations.

The power station and antenna Mr. Baker stated, will be located on leased land four miles southeast of Kankakee, 10 acres having been leased for this purpose. The studio will be located in Kankakee in a site not yet decided upon.

The application to the federal commission asks for permission to operate the station 18 hours a day. The permit, if granted, may provide for shorter periods of operation.

Want Letters WKEY

The call letters of the proposed station has not yet been decided, although Mr. Baker said in view of Kankakee's tradition as "Key City" the call letters WKEY would be appropriate.

It is estimated that the total cost of the station will be from $15,000 to $20,000.

Two Provisions of Security Act Are Unconstitutional

Boston, April 16.—P.—The United States circuit court of appeals today ruled unconstitutional both the unemployment insurance tax provision and the old age assistant provision of the social security act.

Two of the three justices held the provisions illegal.

Both provisions of the act had been challenged by George P. Davis, a public utility stockholder.

The court in ruling the unemployment insurance tax unconstitutional said "the issue is not what powers congress ought to have to meet conditions as viewed by the executive and legislative branches of the government, but what powers are vested in congress under the constitution. The supreme court through a long series of opinions has defined those powers and the limitations upon them. If the constitution as construed through the years requires amendments to meet new conditions the way is provided therein."

The opinion was written by Judge Scott Wilson and concurred in by Judge James M. Morton, Jr. Judge George H. Bingham dissented.

It was the same circuit court that in July, 1935, ruled unconstitutional—and subsequently was upheld by the supreme court—another controversial New Deal measure, that governing AAA taxes.

Worst Tumble In Years For Wheat Prices

Chicago, April 16.—P.—World wheat prices collapsed today in the worst demoralization of markets in recent years.

Five cents a bushel was slashed from quotations in all domestic markets and at Winnipeg. This was the maximum loss permitted in one day.

A storm frenzied selling that swept over the wheat pits at Liverpool, Rotterdam and Buenos Aires sent these markets crashing downward in some cases 7 to more than 9 cents a bushel.

The Chicago wheat pit was thrown into intense excitement with the opening gong and May wheat dropped to $1.30. When the selling flurry subsided the market rallied about a cent or more and held this level for the next three hours but then tumbled anew just before the close to the full 5 cents maximum drop permitted.

Veteran traders here said it has been several years since wheat has lost value so quickly on such worldwide proportions.

They attributed the heavy selling here as well as in other world markets partly to the general decline in commodity markets and to some revision in traders' ideas as to wheat demand following the slowing up of export takings by European countries.

A leading trade authority cabled Chicago grain interests that the Liverpool market, which is the barometer of the European wheat situation, was demoralized when sellers threw over wheat at any price.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 16.—P.—A factory worker was shot and slightly wounded today when three masked bandits made an unsuccessful attempt to seize the $25,000 payroll of the Raybestos-Manhattan company. Three suspects were arrested by the police.

While one man remained in an automobile the others entered the building, put the telephone switchboard out of commission and made a search through desks in a futile effort to find the money.

ROTARY ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS FOR THIS YEAR

Club Hears About Vitamins from Doctor. IN SEA FOODS

Seven men were named to membership on the board of directors of the Rotary club for the ensuing year at the election held Thursday night in the Hotel Kankakee.

The group, which includes John Willis, Irving Minton, Jerome McLaughlin, Lawrence Love, John May, W. H. Wilson and B. F. Herli, will meet this week to select the club president for next year.

Other nominees for the directors included: A. E. Anderson, Frank Schmidt, George Rice, George Swain and Charles Allison.

The speaker at yesterday's meeting was Dr. Frank B. Kirby, director of education of the Abbott Laboratories, Chicago, whose subject was "Catching Vitamins on Fish Hooks."

Vitamins A and D are the only ones obtained in this manner. The presence of these vitamins in the liver of codfish and halibut is what makes cod liver oil and halibut oil effective in building up the body, according to Dr. Kirby.

"Although vitamins have never been seen, have not been touched and are known only by their absence, they are vitally important substances which every healthy body must have," he declared.

Westerns Hallucinate Best Times as much vitamin content is found in the halibut which inhabits the northern Pacific ocean as in the cod. Most of the 55-60,000 pounds of halibut steak consumed each year in the U. S. is taken on trawling lines from Seattle to Alaska.

Most important, to the vitamin industry are the livers of these fish. Fishing crews cruise three weeks to bring in a load of 40,000 pounds. The halibut are dressed on board and the livers packed in ice chests for delivery to the processing laboratories at Seattle. There the oil is immediately extracted from the fish livers.

Tested on Rats
The oil product is constantly tested by feeding samples to white rats in laboratories at Chicago.

In the Great Lakes guinea pigs, "nutritional deficiencies may occur due to the absence of iodine in the soil and vegetables, but a far more universal and serious lack in the diet is the much needed vitamin and calcium salts," according to the speaker.

Calcium is absolutely necessary to build good sturdy teeth and bones. To guarantee this, phosphorus is added to cod liver oil. It is a universal and serious lack in the diet is the much needed vitamin and calcium salts," according to the speaker.

Causes of Rickets
Previous to the discovery of vitamin D, the doctor reported that 75 per cent of the children in Harlan county, Ky., died of rickets. He said that "there are enough cavities in the teeth of Americans to keep our 67,000 dentists busy for more years."

Dr. Kirby urged that people eat far more "greens" in their diet. More milk and add to their vitamin intake. He was introduced by Guy Quinn, program chairman of the Rev. G. W. Whitsett was a guest.

Judiciary Hearing is Nearing an End

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, April 16—(UP)—Senate Judiciary committee hearings on the Roosevelt compromise question, refusing comment on the latest proposal of Sen. Pat McNair, 20, D-Nev., suggesting a straight addition of two justices to the supreme court membership.

The Rt. Rev. James E. Breeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, testified before the senate committee today—possibly one of the last witnesses in executive session tomorrow on the question of closing hearings immediately.

Freeman warned that judicial reorganization may make the nation incapable of dealing with emboldened forces that have taken the nation into their own hands. "Attacks on the supreme court had weakened the respect of the people, particularly of youth, for established order and for the judiciary."

He urged the country to proceed with caution in making any fundamental changes in our government system.

"It is for the security and permanence of a system of government that has survived the changes and chances of a century and a half that I make this plea," he said.

"These later years," he said, "are not only a time of frequent manifestations of lawlessness, but a time of increasing danger for constituted authority, whether it be that of federal or state government."

"Behind the sporadic and frequent disorders that take the form of civil strife, growing daily in magnitude and with threatening implications, resides a bold and wilful

PAROLE BOARD DISCRIMINATES AVER CONVICTS

Judge Hunter Conducts a Hearing at Joliet. "MARKED MEN"

Joliet, Ill., April 16—(UP)—Closing arguments were made today in the case of two convicted prisoners seeking a writ of certiorari in circuit court on the grounds that they were denied a fair hearing by the parole board of pardons and paroles.

The two prisoners, who were convicted of murder, were represented by their attorneys, J. M. McCarthy and John Hunter. McCarthy argued that the parole board had discriminated against the two prisoners by denying them a fair hearing.

U. S. SHIPS NOT EXEMPTED FROM AN EXAMINATION

Not To Be Searched if Papers are in Order.

SPANISH WATERS

By the Associated Press.
Merchant ships flying the United States flag will be forced to submit to examination in Spanish waters officials of the neutrality committee disclosed today.

American ships will have to prove their papers are in order but they will not be searched. The inspectors will board neutral ships of other nations masquerading under the stars and stripes to pass past the international blockade with contraband cargo.

The blockade to enforce the "hands off Spain" committee's embargo against further foreign arms and men has been ordered to start at midnight of next Monday, April 19. It will be composed of British, French, German and Italian war vessels.

Drives on Bilbao.
The civil war front shifted back to the Bay of Biscay where insurgents under General Emilio Mola moved up for a supreme push against the Basque capital.

At Madrid, government artillery repelled two desperate insurgent attempts to repair the Manzanares river bridge which links the Casa de Campo park on Madrid's west side, with 5,000 loyal insurgents in University City.

Government aviation continued reported far flung activity, disrupting insurgent troop movements toward Madrid from the northwest at Valladolid, and from the north at Tudela. Both forces were said to have caused heavy damage to railroads in insurgent possessions.

North—More than a score were injured when red-and-yellow insurgent planes bombed Cullera, just below the French border on the Mediterranean.

South—Insurgents reported a decisive defeat of government troops west of the Penarola coal mines in fighting for control of the Sierra La Grana range on the Cordoba front.

The Madrid government, reporting the battle a victory, said its forces occupied the heights above Penarola and completely dominating the insurgent-held city of Puenteveguina.

London, April 16.—(U.P.)—The great powers have under consideration a plan for mediation to end the Spanish civil war, it was understood today.

Great Britain, eager to seize any chance to end the war but believing that premature action might be harmful, was understood to have recommended that the plan be held in abeyance until its success seemed almost certain.

Events within the last 24 hours are regarded in diplomatic quarters as measurably advancing hopes for eventual mediation between the combatant factions.

First, it was agreed to put into force at midnight Monday the new plan to keep volunteers and war munitions out of Spain. This will be the most ambitious plan ever tried to isolate a war.

Secondly, to the surprise of nearly everyone, Italian Ambassador Dino Grandi announced that Italy was ready to resume discussion of the recall of all foreigners fighting in Spain. As recently as March 23 Grandi refused to discuss such a recall and expressed the personal opinion that not a single Italian would be withdrawn before the end of the war.

Thirdly, Russian Ambassador Ivan Maikhi said that he would refrain from pressing a demand that a special commission be sent to Spain to investigate foreign war participation.

There is a great difference, it is admitted, between Italy's assertion that the nationalists can not win unless there is open intervention in their aid by Fascist nations with ready to resume discussion of the recall of all foreigners fighting in Spain.

A KISS FROM SON HELPS AIMÉE

Patrol Land...
Yet the plan is so important that hundreds of men will be stationed along the French-Spanish frontier to close it. British agents will see that the Portuguese frontier is respected. Warships of Great Britain and France will patrol the Spanish coast controlled by the nationalists and warships of Germany and Italy will patrol the coast of the 27 non-intervention nations and report suspected violations of neutrality. But merchants of any of the countries involved which are on their way to Spain will have to report first at specially designated control ports. There they will be inspected, and observers will be at each port to assist them to get on and about the international blockade with contraband cargo.

the nationalists, side on the contrary, most of the volunteers are under the military discipline of their own officers.

Like these there are many more in the new control plan for something it affects only the 27 European nations vacillating to the intervention agreement. Such countries as Mexico, friendly to the nationalists, are not included. Nor is there any control of air forces to prevent the supply of munitions by airplane to the combatants or of airplanes themselves down direct to Spain.

New York Stocks

New York, April 16.—(U.P.)—The New York stock market today opened with a sharp decline in world commodity prices, such as wheat, sugar and cotton, which had been advanced in the last few days of the week.

Chilling speculative sentiment, especially for staples, were rumors of a European peace move, with the possibility the powers might decide on an arm conference in the near future.

Coppers were among the principal losers and steel lacked vigor. Several electrical equipments, rails and specialties improved on actual and prospective earnings.

Volume was small throughout, although there was a pickup on fourth hour selling. Offerings dried up before the cash transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

New York, April 16.—(U.P.)—The New York stock market today opened with a sharp decline in world commodity prices, such as wheat, sugar and cotton, which had been advanced in the last few days of the week.

Chilling speculative sentiment, especially for staples, were rumors of a European peace move, with the possibility the powers might decide on an arm conference in the near future.

Coppers were among the principal losers and steel lacked vigor. Several electrical equipments, rails and specialties improved on actual and prospective earnings.

CHAPTER XXI
The steel companionway led to an enclosed deck above, but Marlin still could not feel the breeze as he knew the vessel was in the open sea or skirting the edge of some shore. She followed down a long passage, hearing Speedy on behind her and then she reached a dark-stained door. He said, "Go right in there. Climb will be along later."

She opened the door and stepped into a room much different from the one in which she had been imprisoned before. The walls were paneled with walnut. The center boasted a heavy wicker chair on which rested a small table. A lamp. There was a built-in double sink over which was thrown a blue and white ceramic spread. On one side of the room were shelves filled with books and on the other three large blue bordered porters. Marlin ran to the nearest and out into the darkness. He knew he could see nothing. No light, no dark outline of shore, hardly even the surface of the water itself.

She turned to face Speedy but found to her astonishment that he had not accompanied her into the room. As she faced the door she heard the key turning within the lock. Once again she was caught—and this time waiting for Johnny Clunk!

In nervous distress she moved about the strange room. At the end opposite the door was a great long chair, carved curiously. She tried to open the lid carefully with one hand, but found that all her strength was needed. And despite the big chest was square tin atop the square tin, piled one atop the other. She opened one. Inside was something that looked and smelled like flour. She was examining it when suddenly there came a sound at the door and it swung open. In her fright, Clunk's fingers the tin box from her grasp. Her eyes saw that within the flour had been a second, smaller tin which was sealed tightly. In that fearful moment she knew that she had been examining opium—sealed with wax, then packed into flour in another tin so that when it was floated overboard it would keep dry!

"What's the idea?" She looked up to see a heavy, squat man, dark and angry. At once she knew that this was Johnny Clunk. Beneath his open jacket he wore a well-tailored suit. His tie and collar were correct. But Clunk's face was red and lined. His eyebrows were black and heavy, his mouth full and serious, after a cruel. He was a man who had become rich by staying on the other side of the law, by trading upon the misery of the unfortunate. In his own little, terrible world, his word was law. And his law brought him money to spend in the world beyond his own so that he enjoyed the life of a king in a palace of his own making.

He walked toward the trembling Marlin. "Women!" he growled. "They always sticking their noses where they're not wanted. But you didn't find out anything I wouldn't have told you. That's all right. I'll tell you. This is my room. I'm the operator in it, just as I was the operator in the house before the 'peal.' He smiled at her ironically. "Want to know anything else?"

"There's just one thing I want to know," Marlin answered steadily. "When I hear you say 'I want you to take me to her and I want you to put us both ashore'—I wonder if your eyes are really as blue as you're making the ears say—just as you are smiling?"

"Say—just as you are smiling?" Marlin cried her voice so loud and bitter that Clunk's eyes widened. "Say—just as you are smiling?"

Growing Wind
By Helen Walsh

A GROWING wind is on the land tonight. A wind that rises gently through fields that have been dormant since the first of soil-blasted by the harvest gods. A growing wind—bold and strong and strong until it has all avarice and greed. That festered in the winter's narrow days. Shall find in you, dear God, for I love it. O H, if the soul could feel, I think it would. On such a night, remembering the way the wind blew across the fields. And crops grew tall in some warm yesterday. Now deep within the life-giving leaves again. For sun for wind, for rain, for all things. My heart, forget the winter's monotony. A growing wind sings in the fields tonight!

Many women's movements have been organized for the purpose of helping their children's education. In the case of the Chicago School of Fine Arts, the children of the poor are given a chance to receive a good education. The school is located in the heart of the city and is open to all children who are unable to attend the regular schools.
